STUDENT COUNCIL GIVES APPROVAL TO BOND ISSUE

Arends Names Members As Supervisors For ASB Nominations

The Student Council went on record last night as heartily endorsing passage of the proposed $8,000,000 Santa Clara County School bond issue.

Dean Paul Pitman told Council the bond issue will clear the way for San Jose State college's building program. He said that in the interests of better educational facilities, student voters should take time out to go to the polls February 17.

ASB NOMINATIONS

ASB President Emerson "Doc" Arends appointed council members as supervisors for the forthcoming Student Body nominations assemblies to take place this week.

Dale LaMar will be in charge of the senior meeting to be held Thursday at the regular orientation session. Bev Clay will oversee junior nominations in room 117 at 3:30 Friday.

Supervising sophomores in S112 will be Pat Walsh, and Patty Polk will handle freshman nominations in the Morris Dalley auditorium.

By a unanimous vote, Council passed a bylaw making the prosecuting attorney directly responsible to Council. This was designed as a stop-gap measure until the new constitution is completed which is expected to incorporate the idea.

RAIN SHELTERS

Athletic Director "Tiny" Hartman and Byron Bollinger have objected to students eating lunch in the gym on rainy days because of insufficient janitorial funds for extra cleanup. They expressed willingness to keep the gym open if a service organization would volunteer to do the cleaning.

Bob Hines, ASB treasurer, suggested that the administration should provide shelter for students on rainy days. After reminding Council that empty rooms have been used during the noon hour in the past, Dale LaMar was appointed to look into the situation. His findings will be published in the Spartan Daily.

In reply to an inquiry from Pat Walsh, "Doc" Arends stated that enforcement of the smoking ban in the Union will be handled by the Student Union Board.

CHAPEL COMMITTEE

Fred Jobs, acting chairman of the Associated Student Body Chapel Fund committee, reported election of new officers. The names will be submitted in writing to the Council and Student Court for approval. They are Jobs, chairman; Virginia Weimers, vice-chairman; and Chet Krebs, secretary-treasurer.

Council rejected the Social Affairs committee constitution. It was returned to Chairman Clare McMurphy for rewriting.

Kappa Alpha Theta, women's society, had its constitution approved.

Bill Felse, graduate manager, sent an inquiry through Dean Pitman concerning transfer of money to the Rally committee fund. The money was voted last quarter. Arends instructed Secretary Margaret McLean to forward the necessary authorization.

Warren Grateful For Spartan Daily Presidential Poll

In a letter to Lowell Pratt, journalism instructor and public relations representative of San Jose State college, Governor Warren said:

"Your report of the student poll conducted by the 'Spartan Daily' was very interesting. I do not know what the future may hold, but I shall always be grateful for the loyalty of my fellow Californians."

The cross-sectional poll conducted by the Spartan Daily on January 26 to sample student political sentiments gave the governor a substantial lead over ten other presidential possibilities.

The poll awarded President Truman second place; Henry Wallace, third; Harold Stassen, fourth; Thomas Dewey, fifth; and Dwight Eisenhower, sixth.

Student Court Back To Routine Schedule

Getting back to a routine schedule of suggestion and discussion, the Student Court met last night with Chief Justice Bill Logan presiding.

First move by the Court was to set a new meeting day to avoid conflict with Student Council sessions. New tentative date will be Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. in the Student Union, beginning February 18.

In reaction to a suggestion voiced by Chief Justice Logan the Court decided not to invite class delegates to witness ballot counting after elections. Melita Hall recalled that the Court has never done it before, and that last year a similar idea had been discarded. She mentioned that it had come up along with a proposal to release complete tabulations of election returns and both had been turned down.

Logan said he was merely trying to follow popular opinion, and he thought campus sentiment was dissatisfied with the present privacy of ballot counting.

The question of the privacy of Court meetings was brought up by Abner Fritz, and it was ruled that all Court meetings are open to members of the Student Body.

Band To Play At Frosh Meeting

Purpose of the session is to prepare class members for the nomination meeting to be held next Tuesday preparatory to class elections which are slated for February 18.

One-Act Plays Open Tonight In Studio Theater

Three-Night Run Begins With Satire-Fantasy

An evening of one-act plays will commence at 8:15 tonight in the college's Studio Theater, reports the Speech department. The plays will have a three-night run.

"The Miracle of Saint Anthony," "Hello Out There," and "Spring" are directed by advanced drama students Stella Pinoris, Roxana Hildreth, and Deane Healey, respectively. Each director made his own choice of play and directed the production under the supervision of Dr. James Clancy, instructor in directing.

"The Miracle of St. Anthony" by the Flemish writer Maeterlinck, is a satire. The story tells how the Saint, disguised as a beggar, is received on earth. St. Anthony is played by Donald Titcomb. Reed Higgins, Barbara Vaccaro, Gwen Samuelson, Ernest Orr, Thomas Dean, Joseph Galatz, John Hayden, and Donald Lev are the humans in the cast.

Saroyan's "Hello Out There," chosen as one of the best one-act plays of 1941, concerns a young man who has been thrown in jail and is threatened with lynching by a small town mob. The action takes place in a jail in Matador, Texas.

James Jensen plays the Young Man. Ann Gindhart, Joseph Galatz, Carol Strong, Robert Debold, Sal Farayto, Francis Lickwar, and Donald Pearlman complete the cast.

"Spring," by Colin Clements, is a fantasy which takes place "on a park bench anywhere." Characters "the cop," "the gob," and "the skirt" are portrayed by Thomas Dean, Donald Smith and Joan Buechner.

Tickets may be purchased for 30 cents in the Speech office, room 57.

Student Dies After Weekend Ski Trip

Norman B. Smith, 19, junior physics major from Gilroy, died at Wheeler hospital in that city at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Death was attributed to shock from over-exertion and exposure.

Smith returned home at 2:30 Monday morning from a skiing trip to Yosemite and complained of feeling ill. He was taken to the Wheeler hospital at 6 a.m. where he died an hour later.

The deceased was a member of the Academic Scholars and was recently initiated into Tau Delta Phi, men's honorary fraternity.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. George Hosang of Gilroy, and a brother, Dresden, formerly a San Jose State college student, now attending the California Polytechnic college at San Luis Obispo.

Funeral services tentatively have been set for Wednesday. Final arrangements are being made by the Habing Funeral chapel in Gilroy.

CAGERS TAKE FIRM GRIP ON TOP OF CCAA LADDER

College Scheduled For $2,719,274 Budget Next Year

San Jose State college is scheduled for a $2,719,274 budget for the fiscal year beginning this July.

This information was released yesterday as the budget got its first Legislative Committee study in Sacramento.

The total is $340,648 more than the 1947-48 budget. It is $1,168,291 above the total for 1946-47. If the request is approved by the Legislature, opening March 1, the per student cost at San Jose State college would be $364. An increase of $45 in two years. Total enrollment for the college is 6390 with an increase of 500 anticipated next year.

TOTAL REVENUE

President T. W. MacQuarrie said yesterday the College looks for revenues totaling $649,461 from such sources as fees. He pointed out these fees include the $13 per student a year fee and the Government program of financing veterans' training. Present enrollment of veterans is 3200.

The budget lists a total of $1,769,557 for salaries and wages. This is an increase of $310,329 over the current budget.

Operating expenses are figured to increase $15,010 and equipment expenses are expected to jump $19,078.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

The budget also lists an extensive construction program. An additional $150,000 is being sought for purchase of land for student dormitories. Other capital outlay items include $25,000 for purchase of a site and buildings at Fifth and San Carlos streets from San Jose Bible college; $10,000 for purchase of a greenhouse; and $80,875 for construction, improvements, repairs and equipment.

Hagen, Hughes and Inman Lead San Jose Five To Sixth Conference Win

Walt McPherson's San Jose State college basketball team took undisputed lead in the current CCAA race by soundly smashing San Diego State last night on the Aztec home court, 55-39.

Led by lanky Bob Hagen, who scored 19 points in playing his most brilliant game of the season, the Spartans were headed but once, San Diego took their lead of 18-13 midway in the first half but it was short-lived as San Jose suddenly began to sparkle and scored 14 consecutive points. The Spartans led, 28-20, at half time.

BREEZED IN

San Diego fought to within three points of tying up the ball game at one point in the second period, but SJS came to life once again with ten minutes remaining and breezed easily home with the victory.

Besides Hagen's 19 points, high scorers for the Spartans were Inman 11, Hughes 10, and Wuesthoff 8.

MCPHERSON PLEASED

Coach McPherson was well pleased with the week-end jaunt, but stated that the San Diego victory fell just a little flat because "Dick Barnes, center and mainstay of the Aztec offense had chipped a bone in his shoulder in the Fresno State game and was unable to play."

The team will return to San Jose tonight.

CHAPEL SERVICE

The Rev. Clarence Sands of the First Baptist church will speak today at the inter-denominational Chapel Service, which is held each Tuesday at 12:30 in L211.

The half-hour services are open to all who "enjoy a few quiet minutes of meditation," stated Fred Jobs, chairman of the Chapel committee.

DAY EDITOR—This Issue—DAVID LEONARD

Don't Give Up

If, as may be your fate, you receive a blue card or two during the course of the week, don't despair.

Mid-term and final grades don't necessarily have to be the same letter of the alphabet. A sky-colored sheet of cardboard in your mail this week is to be regarded as an indicator.

You may have been doing a poorer grade of work, than that which you are capable of, or perhaps you haven't been doing enough work to meet the course requirements.

The instructor of the course had determined what the fault is. You, as an individual, should know wherein lies the cause. Perhaps your shortcomings are such, that a talk with the instructor will clear up some misunderstanding, or straighten out your thinking on matters pertaining to a particular course.

Whatever the reason, a blue card doesn't mean you're going to fail. It means that you are either not doing your best, or your best isn't quite good enough.

There are still five more weeks in which to improve. A talk with an instructor, and hard work, may be all that are needed to bring that blue card up to at least a passing grade.

So don't quit. If your mail is heavy with the wrong kind of material, bear down and bring it up to par.

Uniformity Unlimited

Now that uniforms have been firmly established on the campus, another step has been taken toward a completely uniformed faculty.

Prior to the advent of the ROTC, the members of the Men's Physical Education staff had adopted a gray jacket and slacks motif. Those on the Industrial Arts faculty have always been conspicuous by their white Mother Hubbards.

The question is, where will this trend stop? So far the music instructors have not appeared in white ties and tails, which is the accepted standard for concert performers. It is hoped, however, that the art teachers will soon be wearing smocks and berets.

Finding suitable apparel for the faculty of other departments does present somewhat of a problem. Possibly the modern language instructors could adopt the national dress of the country whose language they teach. In the case of the bi-lingual professors this might necessitate a quick change between classes. The pedagogues of journalism could appear with loosened ties, open collars and dangling cigarettes, this apparently being the badge of a newspaperman.

BITS OF BANTER

By ABNER FRITZ

..... Last week was mid-term week the Registrar's office informed us. Today is the day that the vile blue cards get dropped into envelopes, which in turn are dropped into the mail. Have enough to wallpaper your room yet, or are you only a second quarter sophomore??

..... The long awaited change in the weather from pleasant and cold, to dismal and colder has arrived. Don't forget to wear your raincoats and overshoes when you go out. Also, most surplus stores are advertising collapsible oars.

..... While we are on the subject of dismal subjects, latest reports have it that the groundhog couldn't see his shadow last Monday because of the extra-heavy dew content in the air.

..... Erlene Elam, who works in the bookkeeping department on campus, will receive her P.H.T. in March, when Husband Billy gets his degree and credential.

The initials are an abbreviation for "Putting Husband Through." Some guys are sure lucky.

..... Look for a boom in the grocery business out Spartan City way. When the new raise is finally approved, that added cabbage is going to help buy a lot more corned beef. Somebody might even manage to get a steak or two on the menu.

..... Jean Stevens is running around in a dither. Reason for this is a proposed trip to Tehachapi. Persons wishing Miss Stevens to deliver cakes to their sisters in the above institution should leave the cakes at the Spartan Daily office. Cakes should not weigh more than 15 pounds each, and metal ingredients should not protrude.

Thrust and Parry

Cash Money

Attn: ASB 1946:

Ah, such noble thoughts you expounded in your Thrust and Parry of Feb. 4th, to wit: "no student should be paid for efforts in school activities."

Undoubtedly you were aiming at the members of the Spartan Daily ad staff who are accumulating riches at the terrific amount of $2.56 per month (to quote Mr. A. Black). You commend the PE department's athletes for their participation in the name of (you should pardon the expression ye olde alma mater purely for "the moral and physical benefits derived from amateur athletics."

Perchance you are not familiar with the legal employment of these men at the rate of from $35 to $60 per month in return for . . . janitorial services? Not that San Jose State is alone in this practice, as I am given to understand it is a perfectly legal and much indulged in practice in most colleges . . .

With me it's all or nothing; either pay everybody for their contributions to the school, strictly above board, as the Spartan Daily does, or stop paying off everybody.

ASB 4990

Logic?

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Hal Snook asks, "What is more logical than facts?" My answer: "Thinking about facts, provided the thinking is free from fallacies."

Strictly speaking, facts are neither logical nor illogical. They are just facts. When men think about facts, they may do so either logically or illogically.

The course in logic will be offered again next year.

Gal Smokers Brave Weather

Smoke — smoke — smoke that cigarette!

The Spartan Daily staff was convinced Wednesday afternoon that the song made popular by Tex Williams, certainly was no exaggeration.

Standing outside the Publications office, in the wet of 1948's first major precipitation-pulsation were a couple of Spartan female "fag" fiends, languidly passing the time of day midst clouds of blue smoke.

With utter disdain for hair-dos and running mascara they finished one apiece and then lit another.

"Oh, it's raining," replied one, gently stepping through a puddle on the way to the door.

"Wait for me," yelled the other hysterically, "I've still got a coupla drags left."

Spartan Nurse Ill, Takes Own Medicine

An ironic note was struck recently when one of the nurses in the MacFadden Health Cottage who is also a student at San Jose State college, became ill.

Being an ASB member, the nurse is now a patient in the Health Cottage, receiving what Miss Margaret Twombly describes as "A taste of her own medicine."

"Another nurse regularly employed in the college hospital is also on the sick list," announced Miss Twombly, "causing the current shortage of help."

HALF TIME

By DAVE LEONARD

Not many students are aware that President T. W. MacQuarrie was largely responsible for the introduction of boxing to San Jose State. It was started primarily as an effort to "masculinize" the student body. It seems as though SJS had become the butt of many a collegiate wise crack — openly laughed at as "those sissies at State Teachers' College."

SMALL BEGINNINGS

In order to raise the athletic reputation of the school in these matters Dr. MacQuarrie imported DeWitt Portal to show the boys what was what in the manly art of self defense. Portal came from Stanford in September of 1934 and at that date began the amazing "rags to riches" tale of the Spartan boxing team. The rise was meteoric. From a beginning class of 23 men in 1935 (with no experience, including the coach), an all time high for the school was reached last quarter with 687 men taking boxing instruction.

From Stan Griffin, light heavyweight, who brought back the first Pacific Coast title, in 1936, fourteen individual coast crowns and one national crown have come back to Sparta in ten years of competition (war years excluded). Men such as Bill Sellers, Bob Webber, Dick Miyagawa, George Latka (who fought a draw with Sammy Angott, then lightweight champion of the world), Jim Kincaid, Stan Smith—all past coast champions — and many others helped boost the College to its present eminent spot in the boxing scene.

PROGRESS

During the last seven years of competition only three Pacific Coast schools have managed to consistently hit the top three positions—Washington State, Idaho, and San Jose State. In two of those seven years the Spartans missed first place by only one point. Last season for the first time the team came home as king of the coast colleges. Had Bob Anderson and Wayne Fontes won those close decisions at Madison, Wisconsin last year San Jose would also be wearing the national crown.

A far cry from the days when the students didn't know the difference between a boxing glove and a muff, Portal has such a large team today that his major problem is finding enough opponents to keep the boys from getting rusty. At the present time most colleges schedule five or six meets and call it a boxing season. Portal would like five times that number. As a point of emphasis two occasions this season will find San Jose State boxing in two places on the same date—

Coach Portal is making a constant effort to arrange a match with the Universities of California and Stanford but as the old saying goes, "23 skidoo SJS." He is willing to go as far as to meet them simultaneously and allow both coaches to pick from the entire Spartan team the men they would like to box the cream of Bear and Indian crops! And still they won't consider it.

THE FUTURE

As far as the future is concerned Portal has put his cloudy crystal in moth balls. The chances of retaining the Pacific Coast team title are highly favorable and San Jose will send the most powerful aggregation of mittmen in the history of the school to the national matches at Madison in April.

He grins like a cheshire cat when asked about next year—"the only man we'll lose via graduation is Charley Townsend. Fontes, Anderson, Cayocca, Nutt, Aguirre, etc. el, are all eligible to return—we should have a pretty fair team!"

SIDELINE SLANTS

By BOYD SCHULTZ

Among the sports which have boomed since the end of the war is golf.

Used to be that golf was a game for the middle-aged men with paunches and desires to spend some time away from nagging fraus.

Now the young men and women have taken the game up. Golf courses all over the United States are crowded beyond capacity. One of the big reasons for the heavy fairway traffic, is the small number of public courses in our country.

Now that golf has come within the financial scope of the general public, more courses are needed. It is no longer a game restricted to the Country Club set.

PUBLIC COURSE

San Jose has a public course and from the amount of business it has been doing the past two years, another could easily be a paying proposition.

A great many of Hillview's patrons are Spartan students. Unfortunately these students have to shell out $1.25 on week days and $1.75 on week ends for a round of golf. Undoubtedly a great many more students would play, but for this.

This is not a build-up or a campaign, but the thought occurred to me last week when I was standing in line, waiting for my turn to tee off. I looked around the terrifically over-crowded course and thought, "Wouldn't it be nice if San Jose State could operate a sporty little 9 hole course."

BATTER UP

This week Baseball Coach Walt Williams will pare his large squad down to playing size, about 20 men. He's had nearly 60 men working out for over two weeks and the squad is shaping up. The first week of practice, sunny skies blessed the diamond all five days. Last week a little rain kept the men off the Municipal Stadium turf most of the way. Williams had the boys working in the Men's gym, however, keeping those flippers loose.

The first contest on tap is with the Bank of America club, and will be played February 28 at the Municipal Stadium. Although baseball is our National Pastime, college teams have a difficult time drawing fans, which is unfortunate, because a lot of great ball players get their start on college diamonds.

It is hoped that Spartan followers will have enough interest this spring to come out and see their baseball team in action.

GREAT BEARCAT CENTER HAS HIS BAD MOMENTS?

By ELDON BARRETT
United Press Sports Writer

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 7 (UP)—Willamette University's big, near-sighted center, Jim Johnson, lost his glasses just before he was to go out on the floor against Lewis and Clark college of Portland recently.

While his wife, father-in-law and fully half of the Willamette rooting section made a fruitless search, Big Jim plunked in 16 points.

"I was just doing what comes naturally."

SCORE HAPPY

Jim is one of an amazing trio of score-crazy Johnsons on the Willamette squad. In the first 19 games of the season the three Johnsons counted 762 points—more than two-thirds of the team's total of 1,059.

Jim and his brother, Bob together have scored 605 points—more than half.

FROM DAKOTAS

Jim's ability was recognized in junior college, but he spurned several big school offers, because they didn't include brother Bob in the deal.

Meanwhile, Hed, a graduate of Astoria high school, won himself a job as a guard this year and has connected for 58 field goals and 41 free throws for 157 points. Jim has 104 field goals, 75 free throws for 288 points.

And Bob, the guy the big schools didn't want, leads all the others with 124 field goals and 74 field goals for a total of 322 points.

After glancing at this impressive scoring record, one could easily be tempted to describe the Willamette team by just repeating the name "Johnson" three times.

P. S. San Jose split two games with the Bearcats.

SPARTAN CAGERS HAVE TOUGH WEEK AHEAD OF THEM HERE

By JOHN GOTHBERG

Coach Walt McPherson's sharp shooting cagers move into the final round of league play this week-end when they clash with Fresno State and Cal Poly. The Spartans will meet the Bulldogs on the latter's court Friday night and will be hosts to the Mustang five here Saturday.

WALT MCPHERSON

San Jose trounced the Raisin City boys in their first game here with 20 points to spare. Cal Poly, however, gave the locals a hard fought battle on their home court. The Green and Gold quintet lost the contest, 58-52.

MOROSKI

All-CCAA Guard Hank Moroski proved that he is still one of the finest guards in the association as he chalked up 22 points against the Spartans last Friday. With the help of Coughlan and Tilstra the San Luis Obispo boys should be difficult to stop here Saturday night.

Chuck Hughes, Stu Inman, and Bob Wuesthoff were standouts in the scoring column for San Jose against the Mustangs. Hagen, Romero, and Marks all did a fine job in that game and can be expected to put in stellar performances next Saturday.

Pre-season dope had Fresno State as one of the teams most likely to capture the title this year. Perhaps the loss of Vernon Riggins was more than the team could take, because their showing has been very mediocre.

BECKNELL

Al Cano and George Becknell are two of the best men on Coach "Dutch" Warmerdam's cage team. The fact that the next game is to be played on the Bulldog court should give the Fresnoans somewhat more an advantage from that standpoint.

TENNIS NOTICE

There will be a tennis meeting in room 25 at 4:30 today, revealed Coach Ted Mumby. All netmen interested are urged to attend the meeting today.

ACTIVITIES PLAY IT SAFE WITH HIGH INSURANCE

By WES PEYTON

The Associated Student Body and the several semi-independent activities, such as the McFadden Health Cottage, believe in playing it cagey; total amount of insurance carried by these groups is close to a half-million dollars.

Graduate Manager William Felse reported yesterday that these college activities carry approximately $325,000 insurance in some 15 policies that cover everything from rain at a football game to fire in the Student Union.

Largest single policy is "provisional" fire insurance carried on the stock of the student bookstore; it ranges from $50,000 to $130,000, depending on the exact inventory of the store at the time of fire.

A $15,000 fire insurance policy is carried on the contents of the Student Union building, including upstairs furniture and downstairs fountain equipment.

Don't worry about having the McFadden Health Cottage sew a towel inside you. The place carries a $5000 and $10,000 malpractice insurance policy, as well as a $5000 and $10,000 policy insuring against bodily injury.

The Health Cottage also carries a $9500 fire insurance policy against demolition of the building, and a $2500 policy against destruction of the equipment by fire. The Edwin Markham home behind the Health Cottage is insured for $3500 against fire.

Other fire insurance policies include one for $700 on contents of the Varsity House on Seventh St.; for $1500 on band instruments and uniforms; and $4650 on athletic equipment. A $3000 "all-risk" policy is carried on photographic equipment used by the Publications department.

Students are protected against injuries while attending student body affairs through a $10,000 and $20,000 comprehensive liability policy.

Felse explained that the $10,000 and $20,000 means that if one person is hurt the policy is good up to $10,000, while if two or more persons are hurt, the maximum range of the policy is up to $20,000.

A $10,000-$20,000 bodily injury policy is carried for patrons of the Spartan Fountain. Workers at the fountain are covered by a special workmen's compensation policy.

Felse added he is thinking of incorporating the fountain's bodily injury policy into the comprehensive liability policy and do away with the extra bookkeeping.

The Spartan Shop is also protected by a $5000 burglary policy, while contents of safes in the bookstore, fountain and graduate manager's office are covered by a $1000 to $2000 fire and theft policy.

Juniors To Dine

Junior class council members and their guests will gather at Lucas Cafe tomorrow in Santa Clara to install newly-elected class leaders. Jeff Brewster, chairman, said ceremonies will begin at 6 p.m. and will be followed by a dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. McCallum and Miss Marie Carr will be honored guests.

"Council members intending to go should sign up in the Dean of Men's office," Miss Brewster said.

DEAN PRICE, aspirant to a seat on the ASB Council, was president of the junior class in high school and served a term on the high school council. "He was vice-president of Black 'O' athletic society. His platform is 'The price of better student government is PRICE.'"

MUSICIANS PLAY TODAY

Four music majors will take part in the second of a series of three informal music recitals to be presented today in room 108 of the Music building at 12 noon, according to a Music department announcement.

Students are urged by Benning Dexter, in charge of the program, to come early as the program will start at exactly 12:01. Last week there was standing room only for late-comers, he added.

The program will include Mozart's "Allegro" from Sonata in C played by Beverly Busch, pianist; Corelli's "Preludio Giga" from Sonata in D minor by Joe Cathey, cellist; Handel's "Grave Allegro" from Concerto in G minor, played by George Cunha, oboist, and Rachmaninoff's "Prelude" in G minor by Robert Keller, pianist.

Student Y Taking WSSF Canvassers

Canvassers for the World Student Service Fund drive to be held from April 5 to 10 are being signed up in Student Y lounge, said Florence Winning, publicity chairman, yesterday.

Each canvasser will have the names of 20 students to be contacted for donations. "We hope to have around 500 people for this work," stated Miss Winning.

Sophs Prepare For Annual 'Hop'

Jerry Quadros, chairman, reports that sophomores are working hard in preparation of the Soph Hop scheduled for Friday, March 12.

The dance will feature Paul Putnam and his orchestra. Dancing will be from 9 until 1 and the dress is "dressy sport."

Decorations Chairman Harry Powers reports that the theme, "Suddenly It's Spring," will be carried out at the Rainbow ballroom with decorations of blossoming trees.

WAA CAGE TEAMS SEEK RATINGS

Members of the WAA Basketball league will participate in special games scheduled by the National Association of Women's Athletic Basketball Officials' Rating board tomorrow evening at 7. The purpose is to award new ratings and renew old ratings to officials.

Those being tested for ratings include Lillian Bradshaw, Barbara Patterson and Marie Gabriel. Eleanor Cain and Donna McCarty will attempt to raise their ratings from local to national standing.

The teams in which these girls will participate are the Tan Tans, Hansen's Blue Frogs, Pidgeones, and Mary George Coop, with captains Eleanor Kohn, Barbara Patterson, Gerry Salina and Betty Bunker respectively.

WILLIS BOYS IN 'MEDEA'

Medea's two children in the Drama department's coming production of Euripides' tragedy will be played by Dr. Edgar E. Willis' sons, Frankie and Richard.

It is reported that the boys are taking their parts quite seriously. After rehearsal the other day, Richard, nine years old, earnestly asked, "Did we do good?"

Frankie, five, accepts his part as more of a game, the climax of which is handling John Calderwood's (his stage father) sword.

The hardest thing for the children to understand is why their stage mother kills them. This question, by the way, may find curious psychological answers among an adult audience.

"Medea" opens Thursday for a six-night run.

Tickets may be purchased in the Speech office, room 57, for 60 cents with student body cards, according to the department.

Grade Envelopes Ready Next Week

From March 11 to March 19, envelopes for mailing grade cards home will be available in front of the Information office, Miss Ethelyn Agler of the Information office said yesterday.

Students who wish to have their grades mailed home at the conclusion of the quarter may place their home address on one of these envelopes, put a nickel inside, and drop the envelope in the box in front of the Information office. Or, he may place his own self-addressed, stamped envelope in the box.

SIGMA KAPPAS INSTALL BETA RHO CHAPTER

By RUTH McCARTHY

In a round of activities last weekend, members of Sigma Kappa, national women's fraternity, installed the Beta Rho chapter of the organization at San Jose State college. Forty-two charter members were initiated.

Initiation ceremonies were held Friday night, and the Beta Rho chapter was installed Saturday at the Sainte Claire Hotel.

Initiates were honored at a banquet held in the Pompeian room at O'Brien's after installation ceremonies Saturday night. Friends and parents of the initiates were received Sunday afternoon in the Empire room at the Sainte Claire Hotel.

CLASSES TO VISIT DAIRY

"There will be more pavement and tires worn away than brains," declares Dr. G. A. McCallum of the Natural Science department.

The good doctor refers to the field trips to Frank Hopkins' dairy on Storey Road which the biology classes, a total of about 550 students in 21 lab sections, are making today and tomorrow.

It is almost as difficult to transport the students to the dairy as it would be to bring the "Bessies" and "Elsies" to campus, explains the biology professor. He assures us that Dr. Robert Rhodes, Instructor Rocco G. Pisano, Instructor Shirley J. Buschke, and himself, are kept busy herding the student caravans to and from the dairy.

Hopkins has the only purebred Holstein dairy in Santa Clara county. The product of 20 years of careful interbreeding, stock from this ranch is highly-regarded by dairymen throughout the country. Last week, for example, a cattleman from New York came out to buy three one-year-old heifers for $3,500. The Hopkins ranch, stock and equipment is valued at over $100,000.

DeVoss Is Speaker At San Jose State Founders' Day Meet

Dr. James C. DeVoss was speaker of the day at a recent Founders' Day meeting of the San Jose State college Patrons' association, according to Mrs. Anthony Jurras, chairman.

The honorary life membership award was presented to Mrs. Cecil Mansfield. The program also included an article on the meaning of Founders' Day by Mrs. R. J. Flagg and presentation of past presidents of the organization, Mrs. D. Thomas, Mrs. M. A. Dutre and Mrs. J. B. Byerley.

The association voted an additional $100 to be used by the Deans of men and women for student welfare. Other business of the meeting included choosing a nominating committee. Those chosen were Mesdames Edward Uhle, H. E. Duffy, Hampton Jones, Leo Price and R. B. Haggerty. Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie will serve as faculty adviser.

Robert Sproul Urges Higher Education

LOS ANGELES (UP).—Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, called upon the Legislature to pass recommendations of the State Commission on Higher Education for an expanded college system.

Speaking at a town hall meeting, Dr. Sproul urged citizens to maintain the state's "hard-won eminence in education" under the impact of "hordes of students."

The commission, representing the State Board of Education and regents of the University of California, recommended establishment of more junior and four-year colleges and granting additional scholarships.

Printing Costs Responsible For Book Prices

Printing Instructor Hartley E. Jackson yesterday declared that recent price hikes in text books can be traced directly to the rising costs on printing and binding.

"Printing costs have risen almost 100 per cent in the United States between 1942 and 1947," Jackson said.

Cost of paper is up 55 per cent; composition (the actual setting of the type and printing) costs are up 100 per cent, while binding costs have risen 75 per cent in the five year period.
